

The Ain Shams International Center for the Study of Pathophysiology of Pregnancy and Fetus. C.S.P.P.

In 1996 in Cairo, Egypt and after several years of preparatory work the African Society of Organisation Gestosis (ASOG, see Link 25) was founded. And in its wake Prof. Handi El Kabarity

Established in 2001 the Ain Shams International Center for the Study of Pathophysiology of Pregnancy and fetus C.S.P.P.

This institution is offering 9 post graduate courses in the field of EPH -Gestosis. Its aim is to spread correct knowledge on EPH -Gestosis, its definitions, nomenclature and classifications as well as in management. It also includes the training in conditions of high risk pregnancies e.g. diabetes mellitus, and anemias in pregnancy etc.

The program of this institute is divided in three periods.

1. Phase

2001 -2004

Spread knowledge

Offer educational courses and training for primary health care to medical personnel

like Medical Doctors

Registered Nurses

Midwives

Social Workers

Traditional Birth Attendants

So far two courses have been completed and an attendance of 250 participants from different parts of Egypt

2. Phase

2005 -2009

Educational training courses of one to three months duration for Middle East Arabian delegates

African attendants

Also other countries world wide

Its aims has been defined as training in the management of severe EPH -Gestosis
Imminent and Convulsive Eclampsia

In Intensive Care Units,

applying the EI Kabarity modified Gestosis Index (LINK 12)

3. Phase

2009 and after

By then it will be possible to obtain a post graduate diploma.

The work for this award will include

Theoretical lectures

Bedside teaching

Attendance and cooperation in IUC –management

OGASH National and Regional Centers will be closely connected to the International Center for the Study of Pathophysiology of Pregnancy and Fetus (Cairo, Egypt).

www.gestosis.netfirms.com e-mail: elkabarity@hotmail.com

www.gestosis.ge